

HOW WOMEN CAN PREPARE FOR RETIREMENT

by Dominic Lucente

A practical financial checklist for the future.

When our parents retired, living to 75 amounted to a nice long life, and Social Security was often supplemented by a pension. The Social Security Administration estimates that today's average 65-year-old woman will live to age 86½. Given these projections, it appears that a retirement of 20 years or longer might be in your future.^{1,2}

Are you prepared for a 20-year retirement? How about a 30-year or even 40-year retirement? Don't laugh; it could happen. The SSA projects that about 33% of today's 65-year-olds will live past 90, with approximately 14% living to be older than 95.²

Start with good questions. How can you draw retirement income from what you've saved? How might you create other income streams to complement Social Security? And what are some ways you can protect your retirement savings and other financial assets?

Enlist a financial professional. The right person can give you some good ideas, especially one who understands the challenges women face in saving for retirement. These may include income inequality or time out of the workforce due to childcare or eldercare. It could also mean helping you maintain financial equilibrium in the wake of divorce or death of a spouse.

Invest strategically. If you are in your fifties, you have less time to make back any big investment losses than you once did. So, protecting what you have may be a priority. At the same time, the possibility of a retirement lasting up to 30 or 40 years will likely require a growing retirement fund.

Consider extended care coverage. Women have longer average life expectancies than men and can require significant periods of eldercare. Medicare is no substitute for extended care insurance; it only covers a few weeks of nursing home care, and that may only apply under special circumstances. Extended care coverage can provide a huge financial relief if the need arises.^{1,3}

Claim Social Security benefits carefully. If your career and health permit, delaying Social Security can be a wise move. If you wait until full retirement age to claim your benefits, you could receive larger Social Security payments as a result. For every year you wait to claim Social Security, your monthly payments get about 8% larger.⁴

Retire with a strategy. As you face retirement, a financial professional who understands your unique goals can help you design a wealth management approach that can serve you well for years to come.

BOW GARDEN CLUB annual plant sale cancelled

The Bow Garden Club reluctantly decided not to hold their annual Memorial Day Weekend Plant Sale this year due to concerns about both our members' and the public's safety amid the corona virus pandemic. We later learned that our primary plant supplier would not be opening for business this spring, therefore supporting our decision.

Our club's annual plant sale is our major fundraiser, second only to our annual Poinsettia Pre-Sale that is held each winter. We will miss "opening our doors" to the residents of Bow on the 23rd of May as planned, offering them the quality and excellent selection of bedding plants, perennials, herbs and vegetable starters townspeople have come to expect and appreciate. We will also miss the friendly exchanges we always enjoy with our patrons.

Please know that we will do our very best to keep the Town of Bow looking as beautiful as ever as we proceed with our garden club year as best we can, and we look forward to resuming our normal gardening preparations and activities in the not-too-distant future.

We are hoping to have an interesting fundraiser to offer the Bow Community this summer, with an eye towards next spring and we are making plans for a better-than-ever plant sale in May 2021. In the meantime, please look for forthcoming announcements about our upcoming membership meetings and please plan on taking in one or more of the educational programs we will be sponsoring as we are able to offer them to the public. We are excited to "get back to business."

In the meantime, "Stay Home and Stay Gardening" (or at least planning for it).
