BOW TIMES URGES A VOTE FOR CHRIS LINS ON JUNE 8

by Chuck Douglas

Some of you may already know Chris Lins as "Coach Chris" with Bow Youth Lacrosse (5th/6th-grade boys). He is hoping on June 8 to be Representative Chris Lins.

Chris is originally from Springfield, Ohio and during the summer between 4th and 5th grade, he moved to New Hampshire to live with his father in Nashua, and then later settled in Bow. He attended Bishop Brady High School his freshman year, then transitioned to Concord High School, graduating in 1984.

After high school, Chris studied electrical engineering at Northeastern University in Boston, graduating cum laude in 1989. While at Northeastern, he played club lacrosse between studies and co-op assignments at Nynex in Manchester, Hollis Automation in Nashua, and Airmar Technologies in Milford.

Chris is married to his creative and supportive wife Jennifer, and together they enjoy a blended family of 8. He is currently Vice President and General Manager of Powerbox, USA, Inc. which is a creative power conversion supplier to industries globally.

He is an engineer and his job is to solve problems.

Chris is also a two-time colorectal cancer fighter. Those who have been touched by cancer, directly or indirectly, know that it changes you. It focuses you and strengthens your resolve.

Why is Chris running for office? His answer is simple. He has confidence he can make a positive difference. He has the patience, discipline, and analytical skills of an engineer. He has the energy, passion, and positive enthusiasm of a cancer survivor.

Working with our Republican Speaker of the House Chris Lins can do more for Bow than our two liberal Democrats already serving in the House. Bow and Dunbarton voters should send Chris to the State House of Representatives on June 8 in the special election.

> BOW RESIDENTS RIDE IN PAN-MASS CHALLENGE

> On August 8, 2021, Eric Thum and Tony

Sacco will join thousands of other bicyclists in the Pan-Mass Challenge. The Pan-

Mass Challenge, presented by the Boston Red Sox Foundation, is the nation's original fundraising bike-a-thon, and today raises more money for charity than any other athletic fundraising event in the country. A model of fundraising efficiency, the PMC has donated 100 percent of every rider-raised dollar directly to cancer research and treatment at Dana-Farber Cancer Institute. Since its founding in 1980, the PMC has contributed $767 million to Dana-Farber. The 2020 gift was $50 million.

This will be Eric's 15th and Tony's 11th year in the ride. This year they will do a century ride (100 miles) in southeastern Massachusetts, starting at Babson College. Eric and Tony have started running, hiking and biking as part of a rigorous training schedule to get in shape for the big day. To learn more about the PMC and donate to this very important cause, please visit pmc.org and search for either Eric Thum or Tony Sacco. Your donation is tax deductible and 100% will go to Dana-Farber Cancer Institute. Thanks in advance for your support!

Eric Thum riding through Gillette Stadium during the 2019 PMC

VOUCHERS AND THE BUDGET

As a parent of 3 children who are and will be attending public education, I feel that wrapping SB130 (school vouchers) into the budget is an undemocratic and shameful way to consider a bill of such import. We face a $90M decline in state funding due to low income district aid expiring and a decline in enrollment due to Covid-19. SB130 will increase that decline in funding. If there is new money available to the state, it should be used to fully fund public schools.

This bill should be a stand-alone bill and should not be buried in the budget. The bill is full of gaps and oversights involving the lack of oversight of funds that the Scholarship Organization has at its disposal. It will not help those at the bottom of the income scale because of the gap between the average voucher amount paid and the cost of tuition or loss of income to a parent if home schooling. There are limited guidelines and oversight for teacher qualification or how private schools are run. If public money being is being provided, there needs to be public oversight. Education is a right and not a privilege and we need to treat it that way in this state. SB130 may help some that legitimately need help, but it will disproportionately help those who already have means and do not have the best interest of public education at heart.

Brittany Weeks, Dunbarton

SUPPORT OF MURIEL HALL FOR THE STATE HOUSE AS REPRESENTATIVE

Join me on June 8 to vote in the Bow/Dunbarton Special Election for Muriel Hall for State Representative. Muriel's leadership at Bow Memorial School for 32 years and district-wide involvement included being an advocate for teachers and students, for leading technology training both as professional development for teachers, and at the graduate level. In addition, Muriel was actively involved on technology committees, scheduling committees, the Bow Education Association and many other committees. Muriel provides evenkeeled and thorough insight into her work. When controversy arises, Muriel is able to look at both sides of a situation without rancor and helps to find productive solutions to difficult problems. One might think that in her many positions in the Bow Education Association, that administration would avoid her like Covid 19! On the contrary, Muriel and the administrators had an excellent working relationship with great respect for each other. Indeed, Muriel is a multi-talented person who brings her calm demeanor, unwillingness to go to extremes, and positive energy to empower all her constituents to be able to be at their best.

Dr. Edith Perkins, Bow

WHY I SUPPORT CHRISTOPHER LINS FOR STATE REPRESENTATIVE

Our country has gone from 0 to 60, racing toward something unrecognizable in what seems like overnight. Our constitution is being challenged on many fronts. Democrats are laser-focused on dismantling our Second Amendment, and we are moving sharply away from free speech, American sovereignty, and capitalism. It's never been more critical than now to have representatives who will fight to preserve our constitution!

The district in which I now reside (Merrimack 23 Bow/Dunbarton) has three "state rep" seats. Democrats occupy two, and the third will be filled on June 8th. Conservatives need a republican to fill that seat, so our voices are represented in Concord. Christopher Lins, also known as "Coach Chris," is the candidate I strongly support to fill that seat.

Chris is involved in and committed to his community, his church, and his coaching. He is full of energy, and he is passionate about our state and our country!

Chris shares my views on critical issues, such as protecting our First and Second Amendments, American sovereignty, education, lowering taxes, controlling spending, voter integrity, and fighting Critical Race Theory.

I strongly support Chris's candidacy and encourage Merrimack 23 voters to check out his platform! See you at the polls on June 8th, as we cast a vote for liberty, freedom, and Coach Chris!

Michele Hay, Bow

WHAT ARE THE CANDIDATES PRIORITIES?

The special election in Bow and Dunbarton is on June 8. I know Muriel Hall. One of my kids had her as a teacher. She is a nice person. I have met Chris Lins. He is a nice person as well.

I have looked at their websites to determine what is important to them. Hall's priorities are education, environmental justice, women's issues, LGBTQ rights, and healthcare. Lins is focused on less government, watchful government spending, and defending the NH and US constitutions in all regards.

Here are my priorities: Critical race theory permeates every aspect of our culture; It purports that virtually all white people are racists, unable, and unwilling to change. It teaches that America was founded on racism.

School choice. Will parents have the option to send their children to schools they believe afford their children a better education and are more aligned with their family values?

I want to know how our candidates would foster election integrity. Do they support voter ID? How would they work to safeguard our vote?

What is the difference between equality and equity? How do they see these ideas impacting our state and our nation?

I want to know if Muriel Hall and Chris Lins would support COVID vaccination passports.

State legislatures hold power to bring these issues into reality – or to shut them down. The NH legislature has an enormous responsibility to shape the future of our state and nation. This election is important. Please join me, vote for Christopher Lins. Susan Moltisanti, Bow

BALANCE

"Balance is not something you find, it's something you create." Jana Kingsford, Author

Government, like most things in life, functions best when there is balance The towns of Bow and Dunbarton are presently represented in our State House by two Democrats on one side of the aisle, with a third seat waiting for an occupant. Imagine, if you will, a seesaw with two people already on one side. Where would you put the third person to create balance?

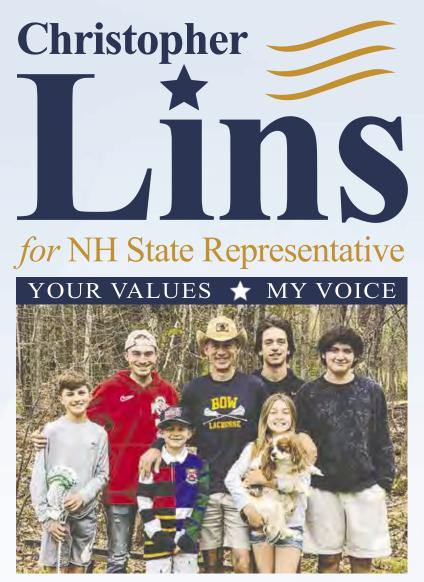

On Tuesday, June 8, 2021, we have a unique opportunity with this special election to create balance where there is imbalance. It is not a popularity contest. It is an opportunity to give a voice, my voice, to those who do not presently have one. I have talked with many conservative and moderate neighbors who feel unheard, unappreciated, and devalued throughout this campaign. Your concerns about the future of this state and our nation are real and meaningful. I share your values and concerns, and I will fight for all of us. We can make a difference together.

My sincere, prayerful hope is that you will turn out on Tuesday, June 8, 2021, to vote for me to create balance in our State House and create balance in our district. I bring more than three decades of leadership, problem-solving discipline, and a well established pattern of personal and professional success to our figurative kitchen table, along with my unique brand of energy, enthusiasm, and passion for winning as a team. We can do this! Your values, my voice! Balance.

Thank you, Bow, for the Primary Win on April 20th! #LetsGoBow again for the win on June 8th

BOW SENIOR RAISES $3.145 FOR MENTAL HEALTH

Ryan Nicholls is a senior at Bow High School and for his senior project he has been studying the effects that running has on one's mental health. As a conclusion to his senior project, Nicholls planned a 5k race in memory of a lifelong friend who committed suicide in 2019. His plan was to raise money for the local NAMI center in Concord to maybe help prevent another person, family, or community from losing someone. Nicholls created a flier including all the information about the race and it also contained a link on Go Fund Me. 55 people ran or walked the course, while there were about 5-10 more people spectating or willing to volunteer. The race lasted for just about an hour with the winning time approximately 25 mimutes. A total of $3,145 was raised for a very worthwhile cause.

MAY IS OLDER AMERICANS MONTH: DON'T OPEN YOUR DOOR TO GRANDPARENT SCAMS

When it comes to scammers, nothing is sacred — including the bond between grandparent and grandchild. Lately, grandparent scammers have gotten bolder: they might even come to your door to collect money, supposedly for your grandchild in distress.

These kinds of scams still start with a call from someone pretending to be your grandchild. They might speak softly or make an excuse for why they sound different. They'll say they're in trouble, need bail, or need money for some reason. The "grandkid" will also beg you to keep this a secret — maybe they're "under a gag order," or they don't want their parents to know. Sometimes, they might put another scammer on the line who pretends to be a lawyer needing money to represent the grandchild in court.

But, instead of asking you to buy gift cards or wire money (both signs of a scam), the scammer tells you someone will come to your door to pick up cash. Once you hand it over, your money is gone. But you might get more calls to send money by wire transfer or through the mail.

To avoid these scams and protect your personal information:

- Take a breath and resist the pressure to pay. Get off the phone and call or text the person who (supposedly) called. If you can't reach them, check with a family member to get the real story. Even though the scammer said not to.
- Don't give your address, personal information, or cash to anyone who contacts you. And anyone who asks you to pay by gift card or money transfer is a scammer. Always.
- Check your social media privacy settings and limit what you share publicly. Even if your settings are on private, be careful about what personal identifiers you put out on social media.

If you lost money to this kind of scam, it was a crime, so file a report with local law enforcement. And if you get any kind of scam call, report it at ReportFraud.ftc.gov.

Advanced Technology, Time-Honored Care

DON'T BE A STATISTIC! by Jim Olson

Things are always changing in the fitness industry. And sometimes it can be difficult to keep up with it all.

Especially when fitness is something you mainly think about when you notice the scale ticking up or when your pants get a bit tight or when the weather starts feeling warmer and you start thinking about bathing suits.

We've rounded up some of the most recent fitness stats. And the results aren't surprising, and I wish they were. They are something that Individual Fitness is looking to change, however. Let me show you what I mean...

IN 2020, THE FITNESS INDUSTRY RAKED

IN 37 BILLION IN REVENUE, and that is only expected to increase this year.

Wow. That is a wicked huge number. And, once you take a look at the next stat it is even crazier considering that...

MORE THAN 90% OF PEOPLE QUIT GOING TO THE GYM AFTER JUST 3 MONTHS.

It's true. In fact, many of you may recall me talking about how most gyms build their entire business model on people doing exactly this.

ON AVERAGE, 3 MONTHS IS WHEN YOU START TO SEE REAL RESULTS FROM REGULAR EXERCISE.

This is incredibly ironic because of the statistic above. Right when people are most likely on the edge of really starting to see results, the average person will be giving up.

Jim Olson

This is actually something that I got into the fitness biz to change. I hate the idea that you are supposed to count on people quitting, supposed to root for people to not hit their goals. That is the worst. All I want is for people to succeed! I want people to have fun working towards their goals, to see results, to get to the healthy and fit lifestyle that they want to live.

And the reason why you see so many people giving up, so many people abandoning their goals before they really see results is because they are not getting the help that they need to succeed.

It is as simple as that. It is because of the one size fits all approach that most gyms throw at people. This approach does not work. People go, try for a while, don't see results, get discouraged and quit. It is heartbreaking to see.

At Individual Fitness, we don't do this. We work with you to customize a fitness and nutrition plan to help YOU reach your goals. We stay with you every step of the way, offering you support, encouragement, and all of the advice and resources that you need to succeed.

You don't have to become just another fitness statistic! Come and experience the IF Way and together, we will help you succeed and sustain your fitness and nutrition goals as a way of life!

> Committed to your success, Jim

OWNING WHO YOU ARE By Donna Deos

Do you know who you are? Who you really are? Do you like that person?

Are you tired of others trying to tell you who you are? Do they tell you things you don't like and don't believe? Why do you hang out with these people? Why do you listen to them?

It's time for you to own who you really are and stop listening to who others tell you who are. They are only doing this because they want and need you to fulfill a role for them. However, this ma a role for them. However, this may not be a role you wish to fulfill for them any longer.

That's okay! Time changes things. Living, learning and growing changes things, and it changes us. What we used to think, say, do and like are now very different from how they used to be. Did you like Brussels sprouts or spinach as a kid? I didn't either. Do you like them now? Maybe, maybe not. I'm sure there are other examples of how you have changed over the years.

The more we change the more uncomfortable we can make the people around us. Unless, they are changing and growing with us.

I saw a funny cocktail napkin that drives home the point I am heading toward. It says "Thank you to the ones who came into my life and made it better... and to the ones who left and made it amazing!"

Sometimes people come into our lives to help us become better people and sometimes they come into our lives to help us realize we are already pretty great and don't need to be, say and do the things they want us to.

Another quote I've liked over the years is "If you can't be a good example, then you can serve as a horrible warning." Some people (each of us at different times) can be the horrible warning we need. Sometimes, others provide that service or example for us. We all need the horrible warnings so we see the things that make us shine way above that.

Confidence comes from many places. Sometimes it is from our successes, sometimes it is from our failures. Often, if we are paying attention, we can learn from the successes or failures of others. This last option affords us to avoid having to live through the failure ourselves. However, failure is sometimes the greatest and most lasting lesson we can have.

So, who are you? What have you done and become that really makes you proud? Even if other people put it down – if it makes you happy and proud, that is what matters. If you make the world a better, brighter, happier place simply by being in it, then you are rocking it, my friend. Keep up the good work.

I know, that you know, there are things that you do and say that really make yourself and others feel better and go out and do good things. You are making a difference each and every day and you should feel proud about that. No matter what "they" might say. Who cares about what they think anyway? If they aren't helping to lift you up, you don't need them in your life. Now, don't go doing anything drastic just yet. Sit with this for a while first. Just realizing who the people are in our lives that don't lift us up is enough of a first step. Doing something about it comes later! Happy May! Donna

COLLEGE FUNDING CHOICES by Dominic Lucente

Explore the different ways you can help finance the costs of higher education.

How can you help cover your child's future college costs? Saving early (and often) may be key for most families. Here are some college savings vehicles to consider.

529 college savings plans. Offered by states and some educational institutions, these plans allow you to save up to $15,000 per year for your child's college costs without having to file an I.R.S. gift tax return. A married couple can contribute up to $30,000 per year. However, an individual or couple's annual contribution to a 529 plan cannot exceed the yearly gift tax exclusion set by the Internal Revenue Service. You may be able to front-load a 529 plan with up to $75,000 in initial contributions per plan beneficiary-up to five years of gifts in one year-without triggering gift taxes.1,2

Remember, a 529 plan is a college savings plan that allows individuals to save for college on a tax-advantaged basis. State tax treatment of 529 plans is only one factor to consider prior to committing to a savings plan. Also, consider the fees and expenses associated with the particular plan. Whether a state tax deduction is available will depend on your state of residence. State tax laws and treatment may vary. State tax laws may be different than federal tax laws. Earnings on non-qualified distributions will be subject to income tax and a 10% federal penalty tax.

If your child doesn't want to go to college, you can change the beneficiary to another child in your family. You can even roll over distributions from a 529 plan into another 529 plan established for the same beneficiary (or another family member) without tax consequences.1,2

Grandparents can also start a 529 plan or other college savings vehicle. In fact, anyone can set up a 529 plan on behalf of anyone. You can even establish one for yourself.1,2

COVERDELL ESAS. Single filers with modified adjusted gross incomes (MAGIs) of $95,000 or less and joint filers with MAGIs of $190,000 or less can pour up to $2,000 into these accounts annually. If your income is higher than that, phaseouts apply above those MAGI levels. Money saved and invested in a Coverdell ESA can be used for college or K-12 education expenses.3

Contributions to Coverdell ESAs aren't tax-deductible, but the accounts enjoy tax-deferred growth, and withdrawals are tax-free, so long as they are used for qualified education expenses. Contributions may be made until the account beneficiary turns 18. The money must be withdrawn when the beneficiary turns 30, or taxes and penalties may occur.3,4

UGMA & UTMA ACCOUNTS. These all-purpose savings and investment accounts are often used to save for college. They take the form of a trust. When you put money in the trust, you are making an irrevocable gift to your child. You manage the trust assets until your child reaches the age when the trust terminates (i.e., adulthood). At that point, your child can use the UGMA or UTMA funds to pay for college; however, once that age is reached, your child can also use the money to pay for anything else.5

Using a trust involves a complex set of tax rules and regulations. Before moving forward with a trust, consider working with a professional who is familiar with the rules and regulations.

Imagine your child graduating from college, debt-free. With the right kind of college planning, that may happen. Talk to a financial professional today about these savings methods and others.

SELECTED CIRCUMSTANCES TO REVIEW YOUR ESTATE PLAN.

You have a Last Will & Testament/Trust you signed five years ago sitting in a safety deposit box at your bank, so you're all set, correct? This is a fairly common misconception about Wills/Trusts (actually, an estate plan consists of many documents).

Estate Plans, like life, are not static. There is no doubt that your circumstances change in the course of time and will continue to do so for your lifetime. This is probably a good thing, otherwise how boring would life be?

This brings up the need to spend some time evaluating what has changed in your life since the time you established your estate plan or last updated it. What has changed? Given the changes, should you be considering amending and/or updating your estate plan to match up with your new reality?

Here is the point: if any of the following events occur, perhaps you should review the potential effect(s) on your estate plan to determine whether you desire any changes (if I am assisting, I may tell you there are required changes). The list below is not intended to be all inclusive, which may be obvious considering such a list would be significantly longer, don't you agree?

1. If you do not have reasonably current versions of Living Wills (documents which express your feelings about not being kept alive artificially in the event of catastrophic illness), Health Care Powers of Attorney (documents relating to your medical treatment in the event of your incapacity) and Durable Powers of Attorney (which can be very important documents governing the administration of your assets in the event of your incapacity and, if appropriate, authorizing your agent to make gifts to intended donees during your incapacity for asset protection or other purposes), you should consider a review and an update of those documents;

2. If you are concerned about the possibility of catastrophic expenses (nursing home care, etc.) and are interested in learning whether you might be able to protect some of your current assets, you should review your overall circumstances (actually, you should have an asset protection strategy in place today);

3. Birth or adoption of a child (whether yours or a beneficiary's) (Depending on the provisions of a Will/Trust, birth or adoption of a child may also result in unintentional consequence);

4. Illness, disability, or death of a beneficiary;

5. Concern about any beneficiary's financial responsibility (seeing more of this in the course of time);

- 6. Illness, disability or death of named Executor, Trustee, or Guardian;
- 7. Change in attitude toward a named Executor, Trustee, or Guardian;

8. Change in economic condition, including an increase or a decrease in asset holdings or values;

9. If you have made lifetime gifts to some, but not all, of a class of beneficiaries whom you would expect to treat equally, you may need to address that fact in your estate plan (including the possibility of establishing equalizing gifts in your estate planning documents to avoid unintended consequences);

10. Marriage, separation or divorce of you or any beneficiary (or if your child's marriage is in jeopardy, you may want to take appropriate actions);

11. Change in the form or ownership of asset holdings (for example, joint tenancy with a right of survivorship vs. sole ownership; change in the actual owner of the asset; etc.);

12. Acquisition of real estate in another state;

13. If you have a Revocable Trust (sometimes called a "Living Trust") as part of your plan, a change in your desires regarding your final disposition and nomination of Trustees;

14. If you do not have a Revocable Trust as part of your plan, you may wish to consider whether establishing a Revocable Trust could improve your plan;

15. Change in business interests (for example, acquisition of a new business; acquisition of a partnership or other ownership interest in an existing business);

16. If you own an interest in a business and do not have a current succession plan in place, you should review your options;

17. Retirement from a business or profession;

18. Changes in ownership of life insurance, life insurance beneficiary designations or insurability;

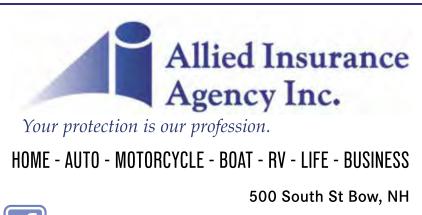

19. Changes regarding retirement plans, including beneficiary designations; integration of the benefits with your overall planning goals. You should be aware that in recent years retirement benefits have assumed an increasingly important place in estate planning. If you have significant retirement benefits, you should review your plan to be sure that you are taking advantage of all applicable opportunities for continued deferral of the benefits, and to be sure that the benefit provisions are properly integrated within the scope of your overall estate planning goals; and

20. Change in your state of residence (for example, if you become a resident of Florida, and if you have a Revocable Trust, there may be compelling reasons to fund your Revocable Trust during your lifetime). If you do not have a Revocable Trust, you may wish to establish one.

QUESTIONS: If you have questions about the contents of this article (or any other questions really), or if you would like to review any aspect of your current estate planning arrangements, you should definitely contact someone who practices Elder Law.

ABOUT MOTHERS

May 9th was Mother's Day. I am sure you remembered; if not, you were reminded! This is not a holiday you should forget. In the US this day to honor mothers began with Anna Jarvis in 1908. She persisted in trying to have the day be nationally recognized, and in 1914 President Woodrow Wilson officially established the second Sunday in May as Mother's Day. During her life Anna Jarvis spoke and campaigned against the commercialization of Mother's Day.

So why talk about Mother's Day in a medical column? Each of us had a mother, the woman who birthed us. For 9 months the 'next generation' is growing in the most amazing environment; attached to the mother by means of a placenta (which starts to develop shortly after the egg is fertilized) through which nutrients and oxygen pass to the infant and waste products are passed to the mother for disposal.

The placenta has a 12 square meter surface area where the maternal and fetal bloods exchange their nutrients and waste, yet the two blood systems rarely ever meet. The placenta is basically a fetal organ, allowing the infant to live off of its mother. We need to remember that although the baby and placenta are 'in' the mother's body, they are not part of the mother's body. They are genetically separate, and both leave the mother at birth.

The practice of gynecology was described as early as 1800 BC in the Kahun Papyrus. Soranus, a Roman physician living in Ephesus, wrote about the practice of gynecology in the early first century AD.

A major breakthrough in the care of the pregnant woman came with the work of Ignaz Semmelweis. In the 1800s he demonstrated that hand washing was key to reducing the death of mothers from puerperal fever. You guessed it, many thought that this was foolish and did not see the need to wash their hands, and certainly no one was going to tell them what they could or couldn't do... have you heard similar attitudes during our current pandemic? We don't seem to learn from history.

In the 19th Century many different techniques and forceps were developed to deliver the baby who for a variety of reasons was not going to be delivered naturally. Caesarean section became more available, and with improvements in obstetrical anesthesia deliveries have been safer. In the second half of the 20th Century fetal monitoring became the norm and greatly improved the chance for having a live birth.

Midwives have always been at the forefront of the development of obstetrical care, and only in the 20th century did the term obstetrics replace the tern midwifery as the way to describe the subject taught in medical school.

According to the CDC, in the US, 700 women die from pregnancyrelated complications each year. ¹/3 of those deaths occur 1 week to 1 year after delivery. Black and Native American women are 3 times more likely to die from pregnancy-related causes as White women. Heart disease and stroke are the leading cause of pregnancy-related deaths. https://www.cdc.gov/vitalsigns/maternal-deaths/index.html.

Let us be thankful for the woman who carried and nourished us for 9 months, risked her life to birth us, and then sacrificed much, so we could succeed. Thank you Mom.

Bow sophomore Alex Larabee finished with a game-high seven goals and one assist and junior Jess Chamberlin had four goals and two assists.

Coach's quote: "We're super happy to be playing, but it would be nice to just be in Division III and see where you stand," said Raabe, who is in her 21st season as Bow's head coach.

BOW ROTARY CLUB CELEBRATES 50 YEARS!

For the Rotary year of July 2020, through June 2021, the Bow Rotary Club had planned a series of events to celebrate its 50 years of existence and service in the Bow community.

OLD TOWN HALL PROJECT UPDATE

Last fall, in connection with the Rotary Club's 50th Anniversary year, we wrote about our project to update the wallpaper in the Old Town Hall. We provided a bit of history about the OTH: that it was originally built in 1847 by the same carpenter who built the Bow Bog Meeting House, that it was used from 1847 through 1956, primarily for town meetings and the work of the selectmen.

As members of the Rotary Club began stripping the wallpaper, we discovered many instances of crumbling plaster. Several people who came to check on the progress commented "the wallpaper is probably the only thing holding the walls together." In some parts of the walls, this was absolutely correct. We had an idea before we began that a few places needed repair, but once the wallpaper was completely removed, the significant cracks and fissures as well as general deterioration of the walls made it clear professional attention was required.

Further, as the paper removal progressed, we realized that the ceiling had nicotine stains as well as yellowing from over time. It only made sense to have the ceiling painted. The ceiling tiles are fire resistant, so they had to be painted with a special intumescent paint.

The interior storm windows were removed and cleaned, and the interior windows were also cleaned and painted.

The town hired a professional plasterer with experience in restoration plastering work. In preparation for his work, the chair rails above the wainscoting were removed and numbered so that they could be returned to their original locations. Jack Joyce, the plasterer, noted that when the building was built, the walls had never been prepared for painting; they had been repaired from time to time, but they were still rough in areas which had not been repaired. He strongly suggested that nothing should be hung on the walls, including curtains. He recommended that picture rails be installed, for items that would normally be hung on the walls. The town decided that the picture rail should go entirely around the room about 12 inches below the ceiling. Once Mr. Joyce had completed repair of the walls, they were gently sanded and primed, and new textured wallpaper was selected.

When Bow built its Old Town Hall, many other towns in New Hampshire were also constructing town halls. Some towns in New Hampshire used pressed tin on their walls. Bow did not apply pressed tin, but likely white-washed the walls for many years, as that was a cost-saving. However, the Bow Town Report for 1908 shows an expense for "wallpaper, paint and varnish for the Town Hall in preparation for Old Home Day." There are no known photographs of what that wallpaper might have looked like at that time.

The new wallpaper chosen by the Bow Heritage Commission and purchased by the Rotary Club, has been in continuous production by the Anaglypta Company since 1907, and is meant to replicate the appearance of pressed tin and this is designed to be painted. It has been painted the same color as the original color found in the Old Town Hall entryway and kitchen.

The chair rails removed prior to the plaster work have been stripped and revarnished, and re-installed. The wainscoting has been given a thorough cleaning and water-based dye stain was applied to recolor the worn and chipped areas.

A picture rail (a joint project between the Bow Men's Club and the Rotary Club) is being milled and produced with a profile similar to the chair rails. This will be funded, painted to match the building's trim and installed by the Men's Club. This will provide the only means by which items will be hung on the walls. The floor is in the process of being refinished as of this writing.

The new curtains selected for the Old Town Hall reflect the "bold colors, with floral and paisley patterns" of curtains in use in the early 1900s, and are of the rod pocket style, which was most common at that time.

The general appearance of the meeting room of the Old Town Hall, when finished, will now be comparable to how the room might have looked in preparation for that Old Home Day in 1908.

Please check our website at www.bowrotary.org for our more photos of this project as well as our meeting schedule and details.
