CONCORD-BOW WATER HOOK-UP FOR BOW JUNCTION TO BE A REALITY

by Chuck Douglas

The multi-decade attempts to get water from Concord to connect to Hall Street and along the Grappone properties on Route 3-A is happening at last. A tentative contract is being fine-tuned by attorneys for Bow and Concord.

Former Mayor Jim Bouley of Concord said that the head of the Bow negotiating team, Selectman Matt Poulin, “was dogged, persistent, and made it happen for Bow.”

Selectman Poulin said, “I am proud to say we saved Bow over $9,000,000 than if we had to build a water tower and pump water over the hills on Route 3-A from Hooksett to Bow Junction.”

Currently Concord Water runs as far as across I-93 to T-Bones Restaurant. When this agreement is finalized, Concord water will run down Route 3-A to Hall Street and along Route 3-A just past the Grappone properties. The rate to be charged must be approved by the State Public Utilities Commission. It will allow hundreds of employees at seven different businesses to have potable water.

TOWN BUDGET DOWN IN BOW

The proposed operating budget is $11.4 million, reflecting a 5.2% decrease from last year’s $12 million budget in part due to the end of annual payments of $1,400,000 to Eversource to settle a tax dispute.

Most of the projects in the warrant articles, such as replacing a drainage culvert on Bow Bog Road, safety improvements at intersections, purchasing a dump truck for the public works department are all planned capital expenses funded from existing reserve funds that the Town has saved over the years.

One warrant article proposes adding $500,000 to the Community Building Capital Reserve Fund to help pay for the future expansion or renovation of the building on Bow Center Road.

If the Town budget is approved, it will lower the tax rate to $6.57, a 36-cent decrease.

After approval by the Budget Committee Brock Ehlers, a Budget Committee member, said “I am pleased we could lower Town taxes rather than raise them.”

SCHOOL TAX TO GO UP IN BOW

The proposed budget for schools, which includes warrant articles and factors in revenues and credits, amounts to $23,084,727 of Taxable Appropriations. This reflects a 6.1% increase from last year’s budget and 4% salary increase. The Local School Tax Rate is set to increase by $1.11 per thousand, resulting in a total rate of $19.47 per thousand.

PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARY HAS RECORD TURNOUT

On January 23, 2024, over 400,000 voters showed up at the polls in New Hampshire for the first in the nation Presidential Primary. The Republican ballots totaled 323,166 and the Democratic total was 121,152. While President Joseph Biden received Democrat 62,000 write-ins, the big contest was on the Republican side.

Hopkinton went 56% for former U.N. Ambassador Nikki Haley, who lost statewide to former President Donald Trump 43% to 54%. Bow’s vote was 1,384 Haley and 1,018 for Trump or 57% to 42%. Dunbarton went the other way at 575 for Trump and 465 for Haley for a 55% to 44% split.

There were 972 votes cast on the Democratic side in Bow with Congressman Dean Phillips getting 181 votes to Joe Biden’s 730 write-in votes. The Bow total Republican vote was 2,457.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,

My name is Jeffrey Knight and I put my name in to run for school board in the town of Bow. I have decided to withdraw my name this year and instead I will continue to help the school board as an advisor on their construction type projects and their CIP projects. I am currently on the Budget committee and plan on running again for that position next year and hope to get your support.

This year, I would like to ask you to support two candidates for the select board position.

The first person is Matt Poulin, who is currently a select board member and is running for reelection. Matt has given a tremendous amount of time in his time on the board and will continue to move the town of bow in the right direction.

The second person is Brock Ehlers and I have had the pleasure to serve on the budget committee with Brock over the past few years. Brock is a Banker and very committed to the town and I have found him to offer good suggestions during the budget process. Brock and Matt both know how to comprise to get things done for the town of Bow and I hope you will help on this coming election day and give them you support.

Thank you,

Jeffrey Knight, Bow Resident

Dear Editor,

This is my story. By sharing it, my hope is that it reaches the right officials and our community can make our town stronger, and even better.

Domestic violence reared its ugly head in my life, and because of it, my children and I are facing homelessness in about two weeks. I came to this town four years ago with hopes of a brighter future. I pursued a career in the school system so I could raise my children. I love my job, I love our town, I love my community and the feeling has been reciprocated.

I contacted the Bow Welfare Office looking for housing options and resources, and was greeted with disgust and annoyance. I was told that I was absolutely not going to be able to stay here in town, but should be looking in Franklin or Manchester. As I’ve started my five hour a day search, I have come to find that the housing crisis is much more dire than I realized. With very few vacancies and needing three times the monthly rent as a deposit, I started looking for State help. I have applied to 13 shelters, Family Promise, Waypoint and several other organizations. I do not meet the income requirements for Bow’s own “low” income housing on Dicandra Drive by about 1000 dollars.

Everyone’s hands are tied. But why?

As a single mother of three beautiful, smart, and children, I am not giving up this fight. I hate to say goodbye to my little town of Bow. But I fear that soon I will have to rip my children out of the arms of security and head into the unknown.

Note: A 37 year old Bow mother whose name is known to the publisher wrote this letter.

LESS THAN 20% DOWN?
MORTGAGE INSURANCE IS THERE TO HELP.

A long time ago, a significant obstacle to purchasing a home was the borrower’s inability to save for that 20% down payment. Mortgage Insurance was a financial product created as an insurance policy to limit the liability a lender would have if a loan defaulted. This helped lenders facilitate making mortgage loans with less than 20% down from the borrower.

The mortgage insurance industry began in the early 1900’s but failed in the 1930’s during the Great Depression. At that time, the rate of default on mortgages was almost 50%. It wasn’t until the 1950’s when Mortgage Guaranty Insurance Corporation formed that the mortgage insurance industry was “re-born.” Since then, several other providers have emerged to round out the offerings.

With private mortgage insurance, a buyer could consider buying a home well before saving for a 20% down payment. By doing this, a buyer is building equity sooner in life and able to own a home rather than to continue to rent. This could also allow the buyer who had 20% down to potentially buy more home by using mortgage insurance.

The monthly mortgage insurance costs will vary depending on credit score, loan to value, the length of the mortgage, etc. There may also be discounts available based on status as a first-time homebuyer.

In most cases, mortgage insurance is not a life-of-the-loan cost. For conventional loans, once your mortgage loan to value is down to 80%, you can request cancellation of the mortgage insurance policy through your lender/servicer. Getting your loan to value down to 80% can be achieved in several ways: by making regular payments along the payment schedule, making additional payments to principal, making improvements to your home such as adding a garage, or as appraised values simply rise.

You also don’t necessarily have to ask for the Mortgage Insurance policy to be cancelled. The Homeowners Protection Act has provisions for automatic cancellation after you reach 78% loan to value rather than 80% where you would have to request it. In both cases, just make sure you’ve made your mortgage payments on time! If you currently have mortgage insurance, check with your servicer on any additional requirements they may have.

If you’ve wanted to buy a home or upgrade to a home that’s a better fit, please contact me or a lender on my team for more information. We can also work to get you pre-qualified or even pre-approved. If you’re not quite ready, we can help guide you on your next steps to get you closer to buying a home sooner than you think.

Thank you Bow! I was honored to have the privilege of representing you all as selectman. Our little town has been an oasis in an ever-changing world. I want to start off by thanking those who have undertaken the responsibility of leading Bow. Working in government requires sacrifice and spending time away from family. Your contributions will not soon be forgotten.

I have decided to run for election one last time. Change is inevitable and I believe my previous six years actively involved in local government gives me a decisive advantage regarding the future of our town. I have worked tirelessly with the business community and our town business development division promoting Bow. I have successfully established relationships with neighboring towns, but I feel there is more work to be done. We need to bolster regional development of infrastructure and leverage the sharing of resources. During my tenure I was part of a team that proudly saved the town of Bow millions of dollars in bonds by negotiating a water connection to Bow Junction, thus settling a longtime dispute with the city of Concord.

Allow me the privilege of representing Bow for three more years. By working together, we can protect the town of Bow from irreparable harm while continuing to grow stronger for future generations.

I respectfully ask for your vote — Matthew Poulin.
Most people view working out as a chore, but it doesn’t have to be that way. Instead of looking at exercise as a chore or a hassle, start looking at it as a privilege. Do you know how lucky you are to be able to do physical activity? If you are able to exercise, be grateful for the privilege! How you feel about exercise matters just as much as the act of exercise. The more positive you are about working out, the better results you will see.

Think of the positive changes — body and mind that you’ll get:

Lose excess fat
The number on your scale will go down and so will your blood pressure. Your metabolism will speed up and your risk for diabetes, heart disease, stroke and certain cancers will decrease. You’ll sleep better at night and have more energy during the day. And most importantly, you won’t be as self-conscious about how others see you.

Build muscle
Having more muscle helps your body to burn more calories, even when you’re at rest. This means that you’ll be able to lose weight more easily, and you’ll also be less likely to gain it back. Muscle is also important for overall health and vitality.

Increase metabolism
When you increase your metabolism, you’re able to burn more calories throughout the day. This means that you’ll be able to lose weight more easily, and you’ll also be less likely to gain weight in the future. In addition, a high metabolism can help to protect against diseases such as cancer.

Decrease stress
When you’re feeling stressed, exercise can be a great way to release that tension and feel more relaxed. Not only does it help to clear your mind and improve your mood, but it can also have long-term benefits for your health. Regular exercise has been shown to lower stress levels, boost your immune system, and improve your overall mood.

Decrease blood pressure
When you work out, your blood pressure decreases. This is because the activity causes your heart to beat faster and pump more blood through your body. When your blood pressure is lower, you’re at a lower risk for heart disease, stroke, and other health problems.

Healthier sleep habits
Exercise helps promote better sleep habits, so by working out regularly, you’ll be more likely to get the shut-eye you need. Getting a good night’s sleep is crucial for overall health and wellbeing. When you’re well-rested, you’ll have more energy and be able to work out harder and longer. You’ll also be less likely to get sick, which can derail your fitness goals.

Feel better about yourself
When you exercise, your body releases endorphins, which are hormones that make you feel good. Not only does this mean that you’ll feel happier and more relaxed after a workout, but it can also help to reduce stress and anxiety. In addition, exercise can help to boost your self-esteem and confidence.

Increased energy
Not only do the endorphins released during exercise improve your mood, they also give you more energy to tackle the day. So if you’re feeling tired and run down, a good workout could be just what you need to perk yourself up.

A positive opportunity for change
The more you appreciate what you have, the better life will be for you. When you look at exercise as something that other people don’t get to do, then you’ll be happier about working out. Physical activity is not a privilege that everyone has, so when you are able to work out and move your body in any way you choose, make the most of it!

WORLD’S FAIR AT BOW HIGH SCHOOL

Bow 10th and 11th graders picked a nation out of a hat and then had to show they had learned the history and culture of over 130 nations. School hallways were decorated with flags and symbols of the countries they randomly chose.

The event has been going on for 20 years and is fun and educational. Representing Bulgaria, sophomores Melinda Becirovic and Phoebe Abdu- lal set up their table showcasing a traditional coffee to symbolize the country’s caffeinated culture and a plate of Lokoum, a traditional sweet made from wheat starch and nuts.

“It’s really interesting to get a sense of other cultures, backgrounds and their history,” said Abdulah. “In an environment like this, going around and being able to talk with other kids and learn things you didn’t really know is great.”

This unique opportunity allows students to learn about other countries but also encourages them to explore new activities, such as cooking and baking while honing their organizational skills.

BOW HIGH SCHOOL WINS A STEM PRIZE

For 14 years, Samsung has sponsored a STEM competition for schools across the nation. This year, 300 schools were chosen and five were in New Hampshire. The area schools: Bow, Concord and Merrimack Valley each won a package for $2500 in technology and classroom supplies.

The next step in the Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics competition is the selection of three national winners of $100,000 each from Samsung as well as state champion to receive $12,000.

O ne of the most notable figures in popular music over the last 70 years is Stevie Wonder. This musical genius is a legendary singer, multi-instrumentalist, songwriter, and record producer who has won 25 Grammy Awards, an Academy Award, a Golden Globe Award, the Kennedy Center Honor and is in both the Rock and Roll and Songwriters Hall of Fame. He plays the keyboard, harmonica, synthesizer, drums and clarinet, and sings jazz, soul, funk, pop, rock and gospel.

Born Stevland Hardaway Morris in 1950 in Saginaw, Michigan, Stevie was the 3rd of 5 children. He was not blind at birth, but because he was born 6-weeks prematurely, he had to be put in an incubator with an oxygen-rich atmosphere for an extended period of time that caused detached retinas in both eyes and left him blind. He was a musical child prodigy who began singing and playing instruments by age 6 and was signed with Motown Records when he was only 11 years old. Motown changed the name of this “boy wonder” to Stevie Wonder. During his first year with Motown, he became the youngest musician ever to top the charts with a #1 hit called “Fingertips.” At age 26, he won his first Grammy Award for album of the year, entitled “Songs In The Key Of Life.” From this early success, his music career continued to skyrocket up to the present day, and resulted in all the above mentioned awards and the sale of over 100 million records worldwide.

Stevie has written well over 100 songs, including “My Cherie Amour,” “You Are The Sunshine Of My Life,” “Signed, Sealed, Delivered,” “Uptight (Everything’s Alright),” “I Just Called To Say I Love You,” “From The Bottom Of My Heart” and “Isn’t She Lovely.” He wrote “She Knocks Me Off My Feet” for Michael Jackson. He has been awarded honorary doctorate degrees from Howard University, Brown, Rutgers, Oberlin, Tulane, Yale and Wayne State.

His political activism in the 1980’s helped pave the way to making Martin Luther King Jr’s birthday a Federal holiday. In 2009 he was named a United Nations Messenger Of Peace. He received the Presidential Medal of Freedom in 2014.

For one of the most influential musicians of the second half of the 20th century whose career began in his early childhood, could there possibly be a more fitting name for this “boy wonder” than Stevie Wonder?

HOPKINTON ALPINE SKIERS WIN 16TH CAPITAL CUP

At the end of January at Proctor Academy, area ski teams took each other on for the 16th Annual Capital Cup title.

Junior Merrick Chapin led the Hopkinton boys to a 1-2-4 finish in the boys’ slalom to lead the Hawks to a commanding lead in that event and the Hopkinton girls kept up with Concord enough to maintain it as the Hopkinton Alpine ski team claimed the 16th annual Capital Cup title at Proctor Academy on Monday.

The Capital Cup, directed by Concord High head coach George Golden, combines both the boys’ and girls’ team scores to decide which program can claim Capital Area bragging rights.

The Hawks had a combined score of 766 points, followed by Concord at 748, Bow at 733, Bishop Brady at 657 and Pembroke scored 633. Hopkinton (386), Bow (370) and Concord (364) owned the top three boys’ team scores, while Concord (384), led by girls’ slalom winner Mika Taylor prevailed.

Susan Rock works mainly in watercolor and fabric, exhibiting her work throughout New Hampshire. One of her watercolor scenes received an Artist of Merit Award in Two Villages Art Society’s Summer Member Show.

“When painting, the most important element for me is how the color speaks,” Rock says. “It is ever fascinating to see how a loaded watercolor brush will react over icicle white paper, and then how another color merges and both speak poetry while I watch.”

Here is the quiz that we usually do in January. I will give you a brief medical case history, and you will try to figure out who the person is. As before, I acknowledge and give credit to the work of Thomas Meissner, MD from whose work these cases have been taken.

CASE 1. Let’s begin with a very well-known U.S. president. On the trip back to D.C. after giving his famous 2-minute speech, he became febrile, faint, and exhausted. In three days, he developed a scarlet skin rash, followed by blistering skin. His 10-year-old son had previously spent several weeks in bed with a fever and skin rash. This is probably how the president got smallpox. The mortality of smallpox was, at that time, about 30%.

CASE 2. He was a very famous composer and musician who died in 1750. You frequently can hear his music played on WCRB (the classical radio channel). When his skeleton was recovered from a Leipzig church that had been destroyed in WWII, it was inspected by Dr. Wolfgang Rosenthal. The skeleton was found to have bone changes in the upper arms and forearms which were attributed to the musician’s vigorous playing of the organ, which at the time was hard work.

CASE 3. This philosopher died in 1900 at the age of 56. At the end of his life he was paralyzed, demented, and probably blind. Because his symptoms began early in life, and there were similar symptoms on his mother’s side, it is felt that he had MELS (mitochondrial encephalopathy, lactic acidosis, and stroke-like episodes). This disease involves mutations of the mitochondrial (they make ATP; the fuel for the cell) DNA is passed on by the mother. His famous quote, “God is dead,” is from his book The Gay Science, published in 1882.

CASE 4. Another composer, born in 1770 (20 years after case 2 died), was completely deaf by the age of 36. It is felt that he had Paget disease (an excessive breakdown & regrowth of bone). He died at age 57. Für Elise is one of his most famous piano pieces.

CASE 5. This actor played the “tough guy.” He smoked constantly and drank too much alcohol. He developed esophageal cancer and underwent a 9-hour operation followed by chemotherapy. He recovered but relapsed 6 months later. When he died in 1957 at the age of 58, he weighed only 80 pounds.

CASE 6. This composer was born in 1813 and died in 1887 (4 years after case 5 died). He was a very famous composer and musician who died in 1750. You frequently can hear his music played on WCRB (the classical radio channel). When his skeleton was recovered from a Leipzig church that had been destroyed in WWII, it was inspected by Dr. Wolfgang Rosenthal. The skeleton was found to have bone changes in the upper arms and forearms which were attributed to the musician’s vigorous playing of the organ, which at the time was hard work.

CASE 7. He was a famous reggae musician (1945-1981). In 1977 he saw a physician for a soccer injury and was diagnosed with a malignant melanoma on his right first toe. He refused to have the toe amputated. Four years later he collapsed during a run in Central Park. He was found to have metastases in his liver, lungs, and brain. He went to Germany, where he was treated for 6 months by the controversial ‘faith healer’ Dr. Josef Issels. He developed bladder cancer and underwent a 9-hour operation followed by chemotherapy. He recovered but relapsed 6 months later. When he died in 1957 at the age of 58, he weighed only 80 pounds.

IN THE GALLERY
Winter Exhibits – Carolyn Sherman | January 27th – March 1st
I have been painting under the guidance of Sylvia Brofos since 2000. Inspiration stems from a variety of subjects which catch my eye, or chal-llenge me for one reason or another. My enjoyment of the water color medium comes from the versatility of the paint, the movement of the paint in water and on paper, the varying degrees of color intensity and the challenge in using the medium itself. I often incorporate the use of pen and ink as outline to make a subject pop or give emphasis. It gives me pleasure to show my paintings in Concord and its surrounding communities.

Art and Poetry Challenge | March 2nd – March 29th
The big news in the cruise world this month is that the largest cruise ship in the world, the Royal Caribbean’s new Icon of the Seas, is on its maiden voyage out of Miami. It’s about four football fields long and carries just short of 10,000 souls. For perspective, the total population of the town of Bow is about 8,400 souls!

Those numbers had me shaking my head. Bud and I took our first cruise on the Regency Cruise Line’s Regent Sea back in the early 1990’s. We sailed from Montego Bay across the Gulf of Mexico and down to Panama Canal for a partial transit. Very cool, or so we thought! The Regent Sea didn’t even hold seven hundred passengers — and two of her could fit inside the Icon of the Seas. Alas, Regency went bankrupt in 1995 and the Regent Sea sank in the Pacific on her way to a Chinese scrap yard.

How did we get from a total of 3.3 million cruising passengers worldwide when Bud and I sailed on the Regent Sea to 31.3 million passengers in 2023? Look back to the ocean liners of the late1800’s, the advent of passenger jet travel in the 1960’s and, yes, ABC’s The Love Boat TV series of the 1970’s and 1980’s for clues.

The idea of cruising for the experience itself emerged in the early 1800’s in the Mediterranean as part of The Grand Tour for nobility and the upper classes. Ships were small and took several months to visit ports in Greece and Italy — many of them still on today’s itineraries. By 1844, P & O (Peninsular & Oriental Cruises, the world’s oldest cruise line) introduced passenger cruising to a broader market, but still centered in Europe.

Towards the later 1800’s the demand for transatlantic crossings grew and along with it, the demand for ocean liners — large ships designed for transporting several classes of people to America and back, maximizing capacity. Think the White Star Line (the Titanic), the Cunard Line, Norwegian Cruise Line, Holland America, and others. The primary function of these ships was transportation, not vacation — although the rich certainly had access to lovely suites.

As for Bud and me, we have done our share — two Transatlantics, Alaska, South America, two Panama Canals, the Baltics, the coast of Norway, a few Caribbean and two Mediterranean. It’s a great and often cost-effective way to experience any area of the world. You unpack once and let others do the cooking and cleaning.

In fact, we’ve just booked a Mediterranean cruise with travel pals Chuck and Debra Douglas and Erle and Linda Pierce. We’ll be on a smaller NCL ship with a fall sailing that avoids the usual stops of Rome, Florence, and Barcelona — crowds are not high on our lists. More on this in next month’s column. Meantime, if you’re looking to experience life at sea, start with Google and don’t forget to pour yourself a cup of coffee or a glass of wine. You’ll be online for a while!

WINTER WINES & FOOD PAIRINGS

As the temperatures outside remain chilly and winter is well upon us, the joys of comfort foods and red wines are the perfect choices for cozy winter meals. There is something about the aromas that fill the air in the kitchen and opening a nice bottle of red wine at home while cooking. This is especially a favorite of mine when I get a chance to slow down a bit on the weekends and choose my favorite recipes or have fun trying new ones. Pairing wines with food not only depends on the grape varietal, weight and components. They are also focused on the food, type of protein, its preparation, sauces of the dish, and its components. Here are my favorite comfort foods and red wines to enjoy this winter.

LIGHTER MEAT: Chicken Coq au Vin, Garlic Honey Mustard Chicken Thighs, Turkey Pot Pie, Roasted Duck with Shallot and Mushroom Gravy, and Roast Porchetta.

ITALIAN: Meaty Lasagna, Stuffed Shells & Eggplant Parmesan.

CHARDONNAY:
- Flavors of raspberry and cherry, with pleasing aromas of baking spices, vanilla, and undertones of hazelnuts with a sophisticated finish — lighter meats pure bliss.

PINOT NOIR OR RED BURGUNDY, RIOJA & COTES DU RHONE:
- Suggested Hartford Court Pinot Noir, Russian River Valley, CA $42.99
- Flavors of raspberry and cherry, with pleasing aromas of baking spices, vanilla, and undertones of hazelnuts with a sophisticated finish — lighter meats pure bliss.

BEEF:
- Braised Short Ribs, Bacon Wrapped Meatloaf & Spicy Chili Con Carne
- Cabernet Sauvignon, Shiraz, Malbec & Red Blends: Suggested Austin Cabernet Sauvignon, Paso Robles, CA $24.99
- Lush, dark fruit, roasted coffee, and spices, lingering finish — perfect for hearty dishes.

CHIANTI CLASSICO, BARBERA, NEBBIOLDO & ZINFANDELS:
- Suggested Caffaggio Single Estate Chianti Classico, Tuscany, Italy $18.99
- Earthy notes, licorice, red fruits, herbs, and spices — loves fresh tomato sauce.

These pairings are the best with family or friends. I recently had a nice lunch with the Food Editor of the Bow Times — Chef Debra Barnes. If you are aware, and have had any of her amazing cooking, you are incredibly lucky! Her organic tomato plants each spring are a hot ticket item in town that she sells from her beautiful garden. I absolutely adore her friendship. We both share a passion for travel, food, and wine. May you all enjoy the comforts of home with great food, wines, served best with friends! ~ Cheers ~ Annie
SENIOR LEADERSHIP KEY TO BOW BASKETBALL SUCCESS

As the Bow High School basketball team continues its impressive season with an 11-4 record, the significance of senior leadership has never been more apparent. With just two seniors on the team, Sean Guerrette and Colby Smith, their role as leaders has been instrumental in guiding the team to success on the court.

Colby Smith, one of the team's captains, acknowledges the importance of senior leadership despite the small number of upperclassmen. "Having only 2 seniors on the team, nonetheless 4 upperclassmen, leadership is very important. So even though there are a slim amount, we can still be avid leaders," says Smith. His commitment to leadership extends beyond words as he leads by example, both vocally and through his actions, on and off the court.

Sean Guerrette echoes Smith's sentiments, emphasizing the team's turnaround after an initial struggle. "We started out as a team who couldn't catch a groove and lost 3 games pretty early. From that point, we turned the season around, catching a good winning streak and starting to pull it all together as a team," says Guerrette. His leadership style focuses on the mental aspect of the game, ensuring that each player understands their strengths and contributions to the team's success.

With only three regular-season games left, the team remains focused on finishing strong and securing home playoff games. "We are most definitely capable of competing with any team in D2," expresses Smith. Guerrette adds, "The rest of the season is going to be a grind. We have three more regular-season games that are all huge games going into the playoffs."

The pivotal roles played by key players like Jake Reardon and Brendan O'Keeffe have been essential to the team's achievements. Reardon, ranking among the top scorers in Division 2, and O'Keeffe, showcasing exceptional skills as a guard, have been vital in propelling the team's progress. Additionally, both Keenan Hubbard and Peyton Larabee have risen to the occasion admirably during a season when their contributions were greatly needed.

As Bow High School basketball team progresses through the season, the senior leadership exemplified by Sean Guerrette and Colby Smith serves as inspiration for their teammates. With their guidance and the collective effort of the entire team, success in the playoff's looms on the horizon.

BOW WRESTLERS DOMINATE AT CAPITAL CITY CLASSIC

The Bow High School wrestling team left a lasting impression at the Capital City Classic held at Concord High School, surprising competitors and spectators alike with their outstanding performance.

Led by a solid group of senior captains, including standout wrestler Jared Dolder, the Bow Falcons made history during the regular season, clinching the D3 dual meet championship and maintaining an undefeated record in D3 dual meets. Dolder, reflecting on the team's journey, expressed confidence heading into the state championships and pride in their unprecedented achievements thus far.

"This season has been going great for us as a team so far," remarked Dolder. "We have had our ups and downs throughout the season, but we are going into states confident and ready to finish the season strong."

Emphasizing the importance of leadership within the team, Dolder highlighted the collective effort of the senior captains in uplifting and pushing their teammates to reach their full potential. "The leadership of our captains this year has been amazing," he stated. "We have all stepped up, picking this team up when they were down and pushing everyone to reach their potential."

He continued, "Every wrestler is key to the room, whether or not they are in our starting lineup or practice partners," he emphasized. "We have a bunch of wrestlers this year looking for state championships, but every wrestler on our team is vital to our success."

At the Capital City Classic, Bow wrestlers showcased their talent and determination, securing impressive victories against formidable opponents. Seniors Adler Moura and Ben McDowell claimed notable titles in their respective weight classes, while Dolder himself secured a commendable fourth-place finish. Sophomore Chase Flagg also finished fifth in a competitive bracket, contributing significantly to the team's overall success.

Reflecting on the tournament's outcomes, head coach Bill Chavanelle commended his team's focus and resilience. "To be honest, I had no idea what the team score was," Chavanelle admitted. "I told everybody to focus on the next match, not the team scores, not where this person is going, just focus, do your job, handle your business and the results will take care of themselves."

As the Bow wrestling team continues its journey towards the state championships, their remarkable achievements at the Capital City Classic serve as a testament to their dedication and skill. The Falcons are poised for an outstanding finish to a record-breaking season.

Monitor: Online Use/Connections Monitoring your children's online use and connections isn't about spying, it's about striking a crucial balance between protecting them from potential harm and fostering their digital independence.

Approve: Apps/Games Parents' approval of their children's apps and games is crucial for several reasons and goes beyond simply saying "yes" or "no." It's about creating a safe and enriching digital environment that fosters safety, security, healthy development, trust and communication.

Restrict: Content/Permissions It's incredibly important for parents to restrict their child's access to inappropriate content. It's about creating a safe and age-appropriate online environment where children can explore and learn while being protected from potential harm.

By prioritizing open and repeated conversations about online safety, you can equip your children with the knowledge, skills, and confidence they need to navigate the digital world safely and responsibly. Tips for making them more engaging and effective:

- Start early and adapt the conversation to your child’s age.

BOW POLICE DEPT WARNS OF GRANDPARENT SCAMS TARGETING OLDER ADULTS

ATTORNEY GENERAL WARNS OF GRANDPARENT SCAMS TARGETING OLDER ADULTS

The Attorney General John M. Formella issued a scam alert for New Hampshire residents, especially its older adult population, concerning a recent increase in scammers perpetrating the “Grandparent Scam.”

In a “Grandparent Scam,” a scammer calls or e-mails a victim posing as one of the victim’s relatives, typically a grandchild. The scammer posing as the relative then claims to be in trouble, often saying he or she has been arrested by law enforcement in another state or country. The scammer may also pose as a member of law enforcement and claim to have arrested or detained the victim’s relative. The scammer will instruct the victim to not tell anyone, sometimes threatening that the victim is under a “gag order” to not speak about the incident. A gag order is a court order prohibiting public disclosure or discussion of information related to a case.

The Attorney General reminds New Hampshire residents that legitimate law enforcement officials will never:

- Issue a “gag order” regarding the release of a relative over the telephone or by e-mail;
- Demand immediate payment over the telephone or by e-mail by wire transfer or in-person payment of cash or other valuables in exchange for the release of a relative; or
- Ask for your personal identifying information in exchange for the release of a relative.

The Attorney General urges New Hampshire residents to be vigilant. Anyone receiving one of these calls should take the following steps:

- Do not engage with the caller;
- Hang up immediately;
- Do not provide money or personal information, including home address;
- Contact the family member in question directly, at a known and valid number;
- Call someone you trust for an opinion about the call you just received;
- Contact your local police department immediately, especially if you have lost money or other valuables, or made arrangements for the pick-up of money or valuables from your own home; and
- Report the scam to the Office of the Attorney General Consumer Protection Hotline:
  - Phone 1-888-468-4454 for information or E-mail us at Doj-CPB@doj.nh.gov
  - Website: www.doj.nh.gov/consumer/complaints

Anyone with knowledge that a vulnerable adult has been scammed or financially exploited should also contact the New Hampshire Bureau of Elderly and Adult Services, at 1-800-949-0470.

A YEAR IN THE NUMBERS – LOOKING BACK AT 2023

The Bow Recycling and Solid Waste Committee had another busy year in 2023. It continued to help oversee the town’s solid waste and recycling collection, it hosted the town’s annual Household Hazardous Waste Day, and it worked with the Selectmen to help create several new programs including a residential drop-off program for compost, Terracycle and plastic bags. It also continued its partnership with Helpsy, which provides a service for home pick-up of used clothing and textiles. Here is an overview of how much waste was collected and recycled.

SINGLE-STREAM RECYCLABLES AND TRASH COLLECTED: In 2023, Pinard collected 851 tons of recyclable materials through the Bow single-stream recycling program, which equates to 1,702,000 pounds of recyclables. In 2023, Pinard collected 2,251 tons of trash from Bow residents, which equates to 4,502,000 pounds of trash.

For anybody wondering, in 2022 the U.S. Census Bureau estimated that there were 8,386 residents in Bow.

HELPSY TEXTILE AND CLOTHING PICK-UPS: In 2023, Helpsy collected 5,549 pounds of clothing and other used textiles from residences in Bow. That is a lot of clothing and textiles!

COMPOST DROP-OFF PROGRAM: The compost drop-off program consists of two 65-gallon totes that are picked up each week (the bins are located outside the Bow Community Center, near Knox Road). This program began in July of 2023, and the containers have been about two-thirds full each week. This calculates to approximately 2,250 gallons of food waste over a six month period, or 9,000 pounds using the average estimate of food scraps weighing 4 pounds per gallon.

TERRACYCLE: The Terracycle collection program began in July of 2023 (the bins are located outside the Bow Community Center, near Knox Road), and it has collected over 135 pounds of hard-to-recycle items. The most popular product recycled in the Terracycle collection program is the children’s fruit squeeze pouches. The Committee recycled over 65 pounds of Go-Go Squeeze and other brands of fruit squeeze pouches in just six months.

HOUSEHOLD HAZARDOUS WASTE DAY (HHWD): The towns of Bow and Dunbarton joined forces on October 21, 2023 to host HHWD for all residents. There were 391 households that participated, and the vendor collected 3,364 pounds of ignitable materials, 1,709 pounds of toxic materials, 480 pounds of corrosive materials and 105 pounds of reactive materials. With the help of Woody Bowne, the Dunbarton Transfer Station Manager, the event also accepted hundreds of gallons of used oil, and the electronics vendor collected 5,225 pounds of electronics to be recycled. Thank you to everybody who participated to keep these items out of the waste stream and to help ensure that our town’s drinking water remains safe.

As always, if you have a question about whether an item is recyclable or how to properly dispose an item, please send an email to the Town of Bow Recycling and Solid Waste Committee at bowrecycles@gmail.com or visit https://bownh.gov/289/Trash-Recycling-Services.
